A decorative header featuring a central banner with the title "CAN I LEARN SHORTHAND?" in a stylized, serif font. The banner is flanked by ornate floral and scrollwork designs, including what appears to be a stylized bird or winged figure at the top center. The entire header is enclosed in a decorative border.

THERE are many people who readily recognise the value of the inventions of modern times, but they do not themselves employ them. As regards some, at least, of these inventions, there may be very good reasons why they do not use them. The apparatus may be costly, or there may be expense in keeping machinery in order, which they have no desire to incur. These may be good and sufficient reasons why we do not all travel in motor cars, or light our houses by electricity, but they do not apply in regard to the use of such an invention as Shorthand. The art of swift writing has admittedly many advantages. If employed instead of the ordinary longhand, it saves five-sixths of the time and effort needed to place our thoughts on paper in the old way, and supplies at the same time an absolutely legible record. And it is important to note that when once the ability to use this invention has been acquired, Shorthand may be employed for a whole lifetime without expense, and with ever-increasing satisfaction to the user.

A moment's reflection will, we feel sure, convince the reader of the truth of the proposition we have just laid down, but the question he will probably ask will be, "Can I learn Shorthand?" We propose to show him that John Bright was absolutely correct when he said—speaking of the system of Shorthand we desire to bring under notice—that it "is so exceedingly simple as to be easily learned by anyone of ordinary capacity." It should, of course, be clearly understood that, as in the case of other accomplishments, there must in the first place be a desire to learn on the part of the student, and in the second place a willingness to devote the needful time to the acquirement of the art.

Pitman's Shorthand is constructed on such a simple and intelligible basis that its principles are readily grasped and applied by all sorts of people of both sexes, from the children in our elementary schools to students of more mature age; while both the educated foreigner and the unlettered savage—who have acquired the English language—have made themselves proficient in the English method of Shorthand. Those who are asking the question, "Can I learn Shorthand?" should remember that there is nothing mysterious or abstruse about the system Sir Isaac Pitman invented. To begin with, the letters employed consist of the simplest geometrical signs for all the sounds in English speech. Every letter has allotted to it the function of representing one sound and no other, and the letters are arranged in a scientific order which has won the approval of Max-Müller and Herbert Spencer.

Pitman's Shorthand is easy of acquirement because an ordinary memory and a fair knowledge of the English language are all the equipment necessary for successfully mastering it. The student who takes up the study is only learning a newer and a better way of representing his native language on paper; he is not setting about the task of learning a new language, with whose grammar and pronunciation he is unfamiliar. The question, therefore, which we have been considering, can be confidently replied to in the affirmative. You can—anyone can—learn Shorthand, and enjoy the manifold advantages which follow from its use.

The A B C Coast Guide, being more local has been allowed to lie in abeyance for a Season, and its concise and easily-found information is much missed by pleasure-seekers. It is, however, not being neglected, but is undergoing considerable change and improvement to make it even more useful in time to come.

The COAST GUIDE'S scope will be confined to the West, and show the runs to and from the Coast by the way of Craignorran, Greenock, Gourock, and Wemyss Bay. We may, probably, also add the connections by way of the railway

Perhaps the most frequently asked question is

When is the next Steamer?

It is on the tongues of all who are disappointed at the non-arrival of expected friends, and those who contemplate a trip themselves. Even the official time-table of the different companies do not answer in a clear and decided manner: they do if consulted in detail and by comparison. Individual curiosity may tackle the task, but the time (even of holiday-makers) is too precious to be wasted in the search, and the unsatiated thirst for the much desired information worries the inquirers and chafes their friends. By the beneficial interchange of tickets by the different railway companies, and the alternative routes at the disposal of travellers, giving a freedom of choice which is largely taken advantage of, even officials and persons who pretend to know everything, and are always willing to oblige

do not have the time or the inclination to store their memories with the runs of all the companies, much less to arrange them in consecutive order, and make it their business to be aye ready to give the information at any moment. But why worry or trouble anybody when you can, at any time, and at any place, alone or in company, as easily as look at your watch.

Consult the Coast Guide?

The desired information is there clearly given without repetition or confusion. Though the different routes to the Coast are placed side by side—just as they start and arrive—they are as distinct and intelligible as the funnels of the steamers: in fact more so, for while there is shown an unmistakable difference between the routes via Craignorran, Greenock, Gourock, &c., there is also a perceptible difference between the routes via Gourock and Wemyss Bay. Besides this uniquely and usefully-arranged time-table, the Coast Guide is a handy Memorandum Book, Register and Diary, and costs only 1d.

termini at Largs, Fairlie, Ardrossan, Troon and Ayr. That matter is receiving careful consideration, and its adoption will depend upon circum- stances.

To facilitate wide circulation as well as rapid production, the Guide will continue to be printed in Glasgow, but the Publishing and Editorial Offices will be at the Coast.

The Coast Guide isn't only in valuable to visitors, but can be made very serviceable to residents and business people generally.

All communications sent to the Office at Rothesay will receive prompt attention.

Preface to 1901-2 Edition.

ANOTHER year demands our attention, and we have much pleasure in placing a fresh issue of the local Directory before the public—keeping them au courant with the times—and we thank all who in any way have assisted us.

As the Quincentenary of the Royal Burgh of Rothesay was frustrated by the deaths of Her Majesty Queen Victoria and the Marquess of Bute, and the elevation to Sovereign of the Duke of Rothesay, our Royal Burgh was deprived of a spectacle which would be unique of its kind, and of a flood of reminiscences extending to 500 years, which would be eloquently poured forth from lips prepared for the occasion. The banqueting-hall of the Castle restored, is the only au fait accompli of the period. Our publication being a current and nominative one, we might not have dived back into departed ages were it not that the disappointment of the public might in a small degree be consoled by reference to it, so we tabulate chronologically outstanding events:—

Royal Charter, dated 12th January, 1400, granted by Robert III, and confirmed by James VI, in 1584.

King Robert III died in the Castle, 4th April, 1406, and buried in Paisley Abbey.

The Castle became then the Bute family residence, and the chief was appointed hereditary governor and constable, 5th August, 1498.

Corn Mill established, 1480.

Presbyterianism established in Scotland, 1507; first General Assembly of Church of Scotland, Dec. 20, 1560; Rev. Patrick M'Queine, ordained in Rothesay parish, 1589.

The Castle visited by King James V, in 1536 and 1540.

Brux Day Fair instituted 1585.

The Town Council records begin, 1657. Former ones taken by Cromwell's governor, and lost while being returned, 18th December, 1660.

Town Council allowed Ascog Coal Digging, 8th October, 1664.

Janet M'Nicol strangled to death for witchcraft, at Gallow's Craig, 24th October, 1673.

She had met the Devil, made a compact with him, he promised she would not want gear, she renounced her baptismal name, and he baptised her Mary,

Rothesay Weekly Market instituted, 28th October, 1678.

The Castle burned by the Earl of Argyll, with whom there was a feud, 1685.

The Bute family, in consequence, bought mansion house in High Street, which was built in 1680, and is still occupied.

Enacted that those who derive or pay £10 in rent shall be allowed to keep beescares, 14th March, 1678.

Election of Member for the Burgh (only election on record) March, 1689.

Poll Tax for Building Parish Church, 30th July, 1692.

Last Darien Expedition from Rothesay, 14th September, 1699.

Kirk-Session enactment against Sabbath Ferrying, 2nd June, 1700.

James, 1st Earl of Bute, procured Bute estates erected into a royalty, 27th Aug., 1703.

Use of Iron Harrow Pins enacted in Bute, 29th Sept., 1720.

The Earl of Bute, in 1748, with wise forethought, gave authority to invite to the island farmers with a better knowledge of agriculture than at that time possessed by the tenantry here. Among these incomers were reformers in Church matters, and John Shankland and Robert Gilderoy were among the first Seceders.

- The Earl of Bute procured the establishment of a Custom-House, encouraged the fishing trade, and invited practised men to settle, 1764.
- Freedom of Rothesay granted to Malcolm M'Vicar, barber and wigmaker from Glasgow, the first of the profession, as a mark of favour, 1764.
- Freedom of Burgh also presented to James Stewart, a knowing ship and wherry builder, 1765.
- Rev. Dr Archibald M'Lea was presented to the parish in 1765, and for the long period of 59 years was most regular and exemplary in the supervision of the parish. In 1776, he made up a census showing that the number of souls in the landward part of the parish was, on 12th March, 1628, and within the burgh lands, on the 20th, 1400—total in parish, 3028: being an increase of 63 over the previous year.
- Market Cross removed, 27th August, 1768.
- Streets named for first time—Castle St., High St., Watergate, Princes St., Montague St., Gallowgate, Cowgate, New Vennel, Ladeside St., and Old Vennel, 30th Aug., 1768.
- Cotton Spinning by motive power introduced into Rothesay (first in Scotland), 1779.
- Rev. James Graham, ordained first minister of the Associate Church (now Bridgend United Free), 11th August, 1784.
- Extensive improvements on quay bridges and roads, 1772-3.
- New Parish School to be built—Marquess of Bute gave £50 and free stance,—1798.
- Present Parish Church built, 1796.
- Chapel of Ease erected, 1798.
- Sabbath Schools established, 12th April, 1798.
- United West Free Congregation formed, 1799.
- Bute Agricultural Society established, 11th March, 1806.
- Council passed Resolution against Dancing, 16th December, 1807.
- The first steamer Comet entered the Bay in 1812, when the inhabitants thought it was the devil, and fled to Barone Hill.
- First Rothesay Directory published 1820.
- Introduction of Freemasonry—Rothesay St John's Lodge formed, 1821.
- Piers repaired and rebuilt by Robert and Andrew Napier, and drawbridge made, 1822.
- Harbour and Jail Bill received Royal assent, August 1831,
- Foundation-Stone of Public Buildings laid, 20th June, 1832.
- Scottish Episeopal Church founded in Rothesay by Rev Samuel Hood, 1835
- Ascension of Queen Victoria, 1837. Victoria Street in course of formation after this date.
- Committees appointed to promote Sabbath Observance, 7th September, 1837.
- Gas Company projected, January, 1840.
- Renfrewshire Bank failed. Savings Bank money deposited there. Lord Bute came forward and made up deficiency, and saved a calamity to depositors, 1842.
- Disruption in Church of Scotland, and formation of Free Church, 18th May, 1843.
- Town Council took over Gas Works, 27th November, 1843.
- First Printer in Rothesay—Alexander Anderson from Leith—1843.

The retrospect is interesting. We may, on some other occasion, put in a similar concise and permanent form, lists of former public officials, clergymen, &c.

A brief reference to present circumstances may appropriately be mentioned here.

The oldest industry is far and away the Corn Mill. It has seen many proprietors and tenants during its existence. Cotton works, (spinning and weaving), tan works candle works, rope works, ship-building yards, cooperages galore, and net manufactory, have come and gone—particularly gone,—within the memory of many now living.

The next oldest business must be that long and favourably known as the "Mill Shop," which was a nursery for many successful young men at home and abroad. Though circumstances have removed the distinctive name, Mr Samuel Mitchell keeps the old-established business and its reputation well to the front.

The business of A. Brown & Son, drapers, was also established over a century ago, and it keeps abreast with the first of the times.

The oldest concern carried on by the same family is the chemist and druggist business of Messrs G. Hicks & Son, who celebrate their diamond jubilee this year.

The oldest shopkeeper in town is Mr James Hunter, grocer. He commenced business in 1850, and has remained behind the counter ever since. He is as smart and active as the youngest, and as up-to-date as the most advanced.

The senior Parish Councillor is Mr Robert Sharp, J.P., D.L. He entered the Parochial Board in 1869, and was appointed chairman, 5th Dec., 1898. This is the only elective office Mr Sharp now fills, but he had attained the unique position in these fickle times of having completed two terms of Provostship, as well as being chairman of the School Board.

The senior Town Councillor is ex-Bailie Walker, J.P., who has had a continuous record of 21 years service—he being elected in 1880. He distinguished himself when treasurer in the early 80's, and was subsequently raised to the magistracy.

The oldest burgh official is Mr Jas. C. Sinclair. He entered the Burgh Chamberlain's office in the 60's, was subsequently for a number of years an efficient master of works and gas manager, and was appointed chief in the treasury in 1887.

The oldest hotel is the "Bute Arms."—the feu charter for which was taken off in 1761.

The oldest hotel-keeper is Mr John L. Kelly of the "Royal." He was 17 years in the "Victoria," before he opened his present establishment in 1887.

The oldest medical practitioner is Dr Reid, who commenced practice here in 1864.

The oldest officiating clergyman is Rev Samuel Crabb, who was inducted in 1869.

The oldest shoemaker is Mr John Anderson, Bridge st

The oldest member of the Rothesay Court is Mr Duncan MacLea, Glasgow.

The champion football team is the "Royal Victoria." Last season they won the Bute-shire Cup for the 3rd time, and also the Knockdhu Charity Cup in its first year.

The champion rifle team is H (Rothesay) Co., Renfrew and Bute Volunteers. They have won the Challenge Cup at Greenock for the fifth time in succession.

ROTHESAY, July, 1901

N.B.—We know that Butemen abroad, as well as those in the "adjacent islands" of Great Britain and Ireland, are interested in who's who in the old home. The quincenary memoranda will have a special interest for them as well as ourselves at home. Our manager, when abroad, found an ordinary copy of the DIRECTORY most eagerly scanned by former residents, who were delighted to recognise the names of old friends in business or office. The DIRECTORY is a much valued present. We are prepared to forward post free, to any address copies subscribed for here.

COUNTY OF BUTE,

The COUNTY OF BUTE comprises the seven islands in the Firth of Clyde, viz.:— BUTE, the most populous; ARRAN, the largest; the GREAT and LITTLE CUMBRAES, off the Ayrshire Coast; HOLY ISLE and PLADDA, off Arran; and INCHMHRNOCK, off Bute

The total AREA OF THE COUNTY (land and water, exclusive of tidal water) is 140,307 acres, of which 53,423 are mountain and heath lands used for grazing. There are about 25,605 acres under all kinds of crops, bare fallow and grass, which is a gradual inroad on the mountain heath and hitherto uncultivated land

The principal INDUSTRIES are agriculture, horticulture, and fishing. The islands possess great and varied natural attractions, and are in the forefront as holiday resorts

The POPULATION of the COUNTY (including its Burghs of ROTHESAY and MILLPORT) in 1891 was 18,404—8,211 males and 10,193 females. In 1901 it was 18,659—being an increase of 255 in the ten years

Parish of North Bute.

Port-Bannatyne, the principal village in this parish, is two and a-half miles from Rothesay, with which it is connected by tramway. On 31st March last there were 367 inhabited houses (1627 windowed rooms), and 192 uninhabited in the parish and 373 separate families—793 males and 940 females—giving a total of 1733. The Port-Bannatyne ward (from Pointhouse to the other end of the village and back to Gortans and Bannatyne Mains) contained 473 males and 627 females—1100 in all; the North Bute ward, 125 males and 140 females; and the Cummemenoch ward, 195 males and 173 females. The total ten years ago was 1583, or an increase of 150 on the decennial period

Bute County Directory.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"THE BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY (Rothesay, Higgle & Co.) has just been issued for season 1900-1901. It contains the usual county and burghal information, officials, societies, householders, traders, etc. In connection with latter it is mentioned in the preface that during the last 100 years Rothesay has undergone a revolution in its means of existence. In the early part of the 19th century it was a great fishcuring and fishing port, and the numerous cooperages, mills, tan works, candle factory, and shipbuilding yards made it a busy town. Now all these industries are gone, and the place exists mainly as a favourite watering-place. A useful book of this kind is a convenience that no busy trader could afford to do without."—The Buteman.

"BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY for 1900-1901 has reached us. It contains the usual useful information—officials of the county, of the burghs of Rothesay and Millport, and of the parishes of Rothesay, North Bute, Kingarth; Kilbride and Kilmory (Arran); and the Cumbræ; the householders of the Isle of Bute, and the traders in Rothesay, North Bute, Kingarth and Cumbræ. In the preface the publishers (Messrs Higgle & Co., Rothesay) give an interesting sketch of the progress of Rothesay during the 19th century. The little book, which costs 1s, should be extremely useful. The opening sentences at the preface acknowledge the necessity of the co-operation of advertisers in its publication."—Largs and Millport Weekly News.

"BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY, through the courtesy of advertisers, is again before the public. It would be a pity were it to lack the necessary encouragement, as its usefulness cannot be questioned. There are divisions, devoted to officials, householders and traders; but it lacks completeness in so far as no attempt is made to furnish a list of the householders and traders in the Isle of Arran and in the Burgh of Millport. Messrs Higgle & Co., who are the publishers, might consider the propriety of completing in this direction an otherwise useful book of reference."—Ardrossan & Saltcoats Weekly News.

"THE BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY for 1900-1901 which comes to us from Messrs Higgle & Co., Rothesay, has been brought up to date. In the preface to this edition some idea is given of the rise and progress of the ancient and Royal Burgh of Rothesay. The town has figured in history for a good many centuries, and although it is not now the centre of any great industry, as in past times, it is pointed out that it has a world-wide reputation as a watering place. The same publishers issue a handy little coast guide."—Daily Record.

"BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY.—Messrs Higgle & Co., publishers, Rothesay, have issued the 1900-1901 edition of the Bute County Directory. The book which consists of almost one hundred pages, contains a vast amount of useful information relating to Rothesay, Bute, Arran, and other neighbouring parishes, will be found invaluable to all those having any connection with Rothesay, and as for the many visitors that are attracted to the island, they could scarcely get on without it."—Greenock Herald.

"BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY.—A new addition of this handy and interesting little work has just been issued by Messrs Higgle & Co., Rothesay. It is carefully compiled, and gives useful statistics and other information regarding the various parishes in the islands of Bute and of Cumbræ. A very complete directory of the householders and traders is also given, which should prove of the greatest utility to visitors as well as to residents in the districts dealt with."—Evening Citizen.

"THE BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY, published by Higgle & Co., is now issued. A work of this kind is necessary in every progressive community. The preface for the current edition comments on the quinqucentenary of the burgh, and some of the changes that time has wrought."—Rothesay Chronicle.

"We have received the BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY (1s) for season 1900-1901. It contains the usual county and burghal information, officials, societies, householders, traders, &c., in handy and compact form, and should be of great utility to all requiring such information."—Argyllshire Herald.

"Messrs Higgle & Co., Rothesay, have issued the 1900-91 edition of their BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY, which gives much useful local and general information in addition to a copious list of the inhabitants."—Glasgow Herald.

“One of the most gratifying messages of good will that has reached us this season comes from Rothesay, Scotland, in the form of a ‘Heather Christmas Card’ issued by Messrs Higgle & Co., of that favourite resort.

The two inside pages are surrounded with mottoes, every one of which breathes a true Scottish sentiment of good will to absent relatives or acquaintances. Along with this card Messrs Higgle & Co., send us a copy of their guide to ‘Bonnie Scotland’s Resorts,’ a wonderful little compendium of descriptive and historical information.”—New Zealand Times, Wellington.

“They’re faur, faur awa’, but their hearts are kind and true—

The auld hoose at hame is ever in their view :

Thé Bonnie Heilan heather and the hilltaps clad wi’ snaw—

Their hearts are aye in Scotland though they’re faur, faur awa’.”

A B C BONNIE SCOTLAND

This Brochure was issued in commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty QUEEN VICTORIA, of Blessed and Glorious Memory, when Her Majesty was pleased to accept copies, and commanded her thanks to be sent to Mr Higgie.

HIS HONOUR, THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, similarly received and acknowledged the Guide as a Christmas Present.

From all classes in every quarter, at Home and Abroad, come congratulations.

THIS PUBLICATION, like the enterprising Scot, is "aye ready" to go anywhere. Orders are received and executed at all times.

As in this the Glasgow Exhibition Year, the First Edition for the Season of this "Dainty Literary Dish" will be issued annually before VICTORIA DAY, and the Insurance Coupons made available from 1st May till 31st October inclusive.

"Bonnie Scotland's Resorts" is its own interpreter.

It is a most appropriate present to send not only to prospective Summer visitors, but also to friends abroad.

The Wholesale and Retail Trade, and Home and Foreign Societies, are supplied on liberal terms.

The Advertisement Tariff covers the Whole of any One Year's productions; and may be had on application.

It is our desire to keep our Gazetteer petite—in order to facilitate quick and easy circulation. Advertisements have consequently to be focussed into small space—though not squeezed into corners, but readily found under appropriate A B C Headings.

Orders and enquiries should be addressed to Mr HIGGIE, Rothesay.

---a Few Recent Reviews.

BONNIE SCOTLAND'S RESORTS.

"This is an invaluable little guide, published at the modest price of 2d. It contains a full list of all the towns in Scotland, which are famous, either from their historical or scenic associations, together with information as to the best hotels to stay at, and all tips a tourist may require in order to locate himself with comfort. Our American visitors cannot do without this little Baedeker, which fits in a waistcoat pocket. We conscientiously recommend it."—Anglo American, London.

"The guide gives in a concise form interesting particulars regarding the principal holiday and other resorts of Scotland, with hotel, railway, steamboat, and other information likely to be useful to tourists and holiday makers. Besides the ordinary paper cover issue at 2d, the publishers recognise the International Exhibition year by special issues, some in tartan, and others with stiff covers bearing St Andrew's Cross and the Scottish Standard."—Glasgow News.

"Is a holiday-maker's companion that it would not be easy to excel. Its editions at 2d, 6d, and 1s constitute, indeed, a dainty dish, the ingredients in which will keep tourists of the day or the month in perfect touch with their surroundings. The idea throughout is to give the fullest information in the smallest compass, and it is realised in a manner that deserves thanks."—Glasgow Record.

"It is the most useful and handy twopenny worth of literature that the man or woman contemplating a holiday can possess. The issue this year is materially enhanced, and in its tartan covers the booklet is better than ever."—We heartily recommend it as splendid value for the money."—National Guardian.

"It is an unpretentious but useful little volume, which the holiday-maker, whether Scot or stranger, will find exceedingly convenient. It is published in several styles—notably tartan,—for the benefit, of course, of visitors from England and foreign parts."—Glasgow Herald.

"The little book is practically a gazetteer of Scotland on a small scale. It can easily be carried in the pocket, and those purposing a visit to Scotland would do well to bear it in mind."—Scottish American, New York.

"It is a very valuable book, easy of reference, and ought to be in the possession of all who intend visiting Scotland during the season."—Sunderland Daily Echo.

"A short and comprehensive notice is given of all leading places, and the booklet will be useful for visitors to our Exhibition and for general reference."—Scottish Critic.

"There are special issues of the guide in cloth this year in honour of the Glasgow Exhibition."—Nottingham Daily Guardian.

It contains a fund of information with regard to the 'Land o' Cakes.'"—Ally Soper.

Besides the complimentary Press notices, we receive most cordial thanks from tourists—very many of whom order their copies from a distance before coming here (having seen the booklet favourably noticed in their local newspapers.) As intended, it seems to thoroughly suit the requirements of the sojourner. Prospective tourists find in it just the information they seek, and any former visitors who have missed it when north, but have ordered it on their return, have had their good impressions deepened. Several of the latter show their gratitude by sending us photographs they took of our picturesque scenery. It is extremely pleasant to receive such spontaneous acknowledgments from so many of our appreciative constituents.

Chronic Bronchitis and other Diseases of the Respiratory

A good judge of quality is the person who deals with us, and here is what some of our Customers have said recently, when writing for supplies:—

Mr M—C—, Co. Kildare, April, 27th 1901, says—"Your Powder, unlike other things advertised for Asthma, does what you claim for it—Relieves,—and is cheaper than most kinds sold. If there is another Powder having equal merits, it is (is my experience), that sold by a Dr Clery, Marseilles, but it is too expensive for many."

Mr M—, Somerleyton, May, 1st, 1901, says—"I hope your excellent Reliever has a capital sale, as I have no doubt it has among poor Asthmatics. It is cheap, and equally effective as more expensive remedies advertised. Thanks for prompt attention to little orders from time to time."

Mr I. G. B—, Fetlar, Shetland, April, 26th, 1901, says—"It is a fine thing for ASTHMA. Send on as soon as possible."
